Scott Miller is known for finding solutions to his clients' problems. Scott handles complex commercial litigation involving contracts; intellectual property; business torts; unfair business and trade practices; interference with contracts and business expectancies; misappropriation of trade secrets and proprietary information; breach of fiduciary duties; fraud and deceptive business practices; business conspiracies; and multiple claimant litigation on behalf of a wide variety of clients. He represents companies of all sizes, from large manufacturers and government contractors to local businesses and entrepreneurs, helping find answers to their questions and get the results they need. In addition to representing companies, Scott represents individuals in a variety of trust and estate disputes.

Corporate executives and in-house counsel depend on Scott for assistance on a wide variety of matters, including managing solutions, finding opportunities, risk avoidance, dispute prevention, recommendations of specific actions, and other business decisions. For businesses looking for attentive, responsive assistance with commercial and corporate litigation matters, including business and contract disputes, government contracting issues, commercial lease and real estate matters, and intellectual property disputes, Scott is a natural choice.

As a trial attorney, Scott frequently appears in the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia and in Virginia circuit courts. Born and raised in Hampton Roads, Scott has a keen knowledge of the area, including the local businesses and court systems. He has been named among Virginia's "Legal Elite" for Civil Litigation by Virginia Business magazine (2018-present), listed as a "Rising Star" by Virginia Super Lawyers (2011-2020, 2022), recognized as a "Top Lawyer" of coastal Virginia by CoVa Biz magazine and listed in The Best Lawyers in America® (2021-present).

Scott is a permanent member of the Judicial Conference of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit.
