Max So focuses his practice on corporate and administrative matters.

The majority of his practice relates to helping clients in the tobacco-related product industries in navigating the regulatory issues that arise under federal statutes and the regulations of tax and permitting under the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB), as well as state and local laws and regulations applicable to the manufacture, marketing, distribution and sale of tobacco and related products.

Max previously served as a judicial law clerk with the Honorable Judge Eric M. Davis for the Complex Commercial Litigation Division of The Superior Court of Delaware.

Max received his J.D. from Washington and Lee University School of Law, where he graduated magna cum laude and served as the Vice-President of Fundraising for the Public Interest Law Students Association. Max earned his bachelor's degree in philosophy from Ursinus College.
