

Yasmin Bagha featured in a Law360 article on Balance and Lateral Advancement in Law

06.20.2023

In Law360's article on the recent career considerations among younger associates, Yasmin Bagha shared her motivation behind joining Williams Mullen. "The key factor that prompted the lateral move to begin with — outside of wanting to go to a larger firm — was that I was interested in specializing," said Bagha.

Bagha joined the Williams Mullen Tyson's office in March where she focuses her practice on construction litigation and government contracts.
